Clerkships with Judge Albright

Judge Albright has opportunities for two term clerks per court term. Term clerkships run from August to August. Judge Albright has completed the hiring of term clerks for the 2026-2027 term. Applications for term clerkships for the 2027-2028 term will be reviewed on a rolling basis. Law student applicants for term clerkships must have at least three semesters of grades prior to applying.

Qualifications: Applicants for term clerkships must have completed law school prior to the commencement of the clerkship. Term clerks are full time, at-will, employees. The yearly salary is approximately $72,812.00. Successful term clerkship candidates will be disciplined writers with excellent law school grades and well-developed legal research skills. Accordingly, preference will be given to candidates with law review or law journal experience, prior clerkship experience, or prior experience in the practice of law.

Application: Candidates for term clerkships should forward (in PDF format) a cover letter, resume, law school transcript (official or unofficial), three references, and two writing samples, to Chambers Counsel, Jena Richer, at jena.richer@mdcourts.gov. Candidates will be selected for at least one interview, which may be conducted in person or remotely. Candidates may be asked to participate in a writing exercise.

All term clerks are expected to work independently and in collaboration with Judge Albright and other law clerks. All are expected to work at Judge Albright's chambers in Rockville, Maryland, with travel to Annapolis, Maryland approximately once per month. Occasional telework will be considered.

Judge Albright welcomes candidates from all backgrounds.
